

Farewell and Warm Welcome

Following a three-year tenure, Professor Binhua Wang, the Founding Editor of the International Journal of Chinese English Translation & Interpreting (IJCETI), stepped down as Editor-in-Chief (EiC) in March. On behalf of the publisher, editorial board and wider community of IJCETI, we express our profound gratitude and appreciation to Professor Wang. During his tenure as EiC, he helped launch the journal, directed and guided the journal through its editorial process and completed the first six issues, which lay a foundation for its future development. We would also like to thank Dr Yuan Ping for undertaking the Associate Editor role from September 2024 to March 2025.

We are delighted to welcome Dr Jack Hong Diao as the Editor-in-Chief and Dr Selena Weixin Zeng as the Associate Editor, both of whom took up the roles in March 2025 and have brought new perspectives and energy to the journal.

We also welcome the following colleagues to join the editorial board.

Jiaxin Chen, China Agricultural University, China

Xuemei Chen, Lingnan University of Hong Kong, China

Zhuojia Chen, BNU-HKBU United International College, China

Ke Deng, Southwest University of Science and Technology, China

Chao Han, National University of Singapore, Singapore

Dechao Li, Hong Kong Polytechnic University, China

Jiaxin Lin, Northwestern Polytechnical University, China

Yi Liu, Northwestern Polytechnical University, China

Yufeng Liu, Lancaster University, UK

Rachel Lung, Lingnan University of Hong Kong, China

Hanting Pan, Beijing Normal University, China

Lintao (Rick) Qi, Monash University, Australia

Ge Song, The Education University of Hong Kong, China

Kan Wu, University of Macau, China

Dengshan Xia, Beijing Foreign Studies University, China

Cui Xu, Beijing Institute of Technology, China